Preview Of 1950 Elections Holds Spotlight Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

In a preview of the 1950 struggle for control of congress, voters scattered across the nation pick one senator, two House members, two governors and many local officials tomorrow.

A special senate race in New York overshadows all others in interest.

In that contest and in certain others, labor as well as the major political parties will have something at stake.

The AFL and CIO have put their chips down together on Democratic former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in the New York election to round out the term—expiring in January, 1951—of Senator Wagner (D-NY), who resigned.

Republican Senator John Foster Dulles, an appointee of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, has made President Truman's "fair deal" program an issue by his attacks on it. He has come out for a modified version of the Taft-Hartley act.

The president spoke out against Dulles Saturday night in a radio broadcast urging the election of Lehman.

Across the river in New Jersey, labor has split apart in the hotly contested race for governor. The AFL has endorsed Democratic State Senator Elmer H. Wene, who is trying to unseat Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll.

The CIO, on the other hand, has issued a report criticizing Wene severely, linking him with the old Frank Hague organization of Jersey City. However, the CIO hasn't backed Driscoll.

Labor also has split in the mayoral race in Detroit, one of the local elections that will be watched closely for possible national trends.

The AFL is backing Albert E. Cobo, Republican city treasurer, who led all of the candidates in the September primary. The CIO is supporting George Edwards, who has Democratic ties. The issue will be decided on a non-partisan ballot.

In the New York senatorial battle, Dulles appears to have turned into a toss-up contest a month ago were giving to Lehman by a wide margin.

Virginia is electing a governor in a race that doesn't have much outside interest. The politicians all expect Democratic State Senator John S. Battle to win handily over Republican Walter Johnson. However, local races in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Connecticut will be watched closely for possible 1950 trends. Involved are mayoral elections in Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Louisville and several cities in Connecticut.

Those four states elect senators as well as many House members next year. Connecticut, in fact, will pick two senators.

Blast Furnaces Glowing Again

Lukens Steel Plant Settles Strike

Coatesville, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Fires are burning in the blast furnaces of the Lukens Steel Co. again today after a strike-settling agreement reached by the company and the CIO-United Steelworkers Union.

The agreement, reached Saturday, came as the second biggest break in the steel strike that started Oct. 1.

The Bethlehem Steel Co., which employs 80,000, came to terms with the union Oct. 31 and two days later Rotary Electric Steel Co. of Detroit, employing 500, reached an agreement with the steelworkers.

A Lukens spokesman said the settlement calls for an increase in the amount of the company-paid pension plan and a broader social security program for the firm's 3,000 employees.

The spokesman said fires were rekindled in the open hearths Saturday night but it probably will be 10 days before full production can be resumed.

The new pact provides an increase of $10 a month in the company-paid pension to retired workers, 65 years old with 40 or more years of service. The previous top monthly pension was $115.50.

Single men now will receive the same pension as married men. The firm's pension program has been in effect 30 years.

The new social insurance plan provides for a company payment of about 3 3/4 cents per man hour with the employees contributing about 2 1/4 cents per man hour.

CANAL TRAFFIC DROPS

St. Catharines, Ont., Nov. 7 (AP)—The Welland ship canal, which links Lake Erie with Lake Ontario, will close for navigation at midnight Dec. 15, it was announced today. Traffic through the canal has declined recently because of the United States coal strike.

Blarney Stone Chip Nets $472

San Francisco Irish Told It Was Hoax

San Francisco, Nov. 7 (AP)—Hundreds kissed it at 25 cents a snack, but the question "What was it?"

The 15 pound chunk of limestone was flown here from Ireland, with advance hullabaloo that it was a chip off the real blarney stone. You know, the one in Ireland that imparts the gift of gab. Or so they say.

It disappeared early yesterday, shortly after a St. Mary's church festival crowd had paid $472 for the privilege of smearing it with lipstick. Women the custodians reported, were by far the best customers.

But only minutes after its disappearance, the stone's origin was challenged.

James Cummins, past president of the United Irish Society and custodian of the stone, groaned: "The worst thing is that the London Daily Mail's New York correspondent called and said the rock wasn't the real thing."

With that Cummins said he has documentary evidence that it was the real thing—still is as far as he is concerned.

"A friend of mine—Pat Collins—who lives in Cork, sent it and assured me it was from Blarney castle. I have the bill of lading from TWA Airlines. I have saved the correspondence."

Unused Manistique U. S. Tree Nursery Offered To State

Lansing, Nov. 7 (AP)—Conservation commissioners were arriving in Lansing today to begin their monthly meeting with a private conference with Governor William (2:30 p. m.).

The conference, which the executive office said would be closed to the press, was to deal with problems of reforestation. The governor was expected to urge the commission to take up the offer of the federal government to turn over an unused nursery at Manistique to increase the output of seedlings.

Controller Robert F. Steadman inspected the nursery when he was on an inspection trip and made a strongly favorable report to the governor.

Gas Soaks Detroit Union Chief's Home In Arson Attempt

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—Police were investigating the possibility of an arson attempt today in the soaking of a union leader's house with gasoline.

George Scopus, president of Local 22, CIO United Auto Workers, reported he returned last night from a union meeting to find the front of his frame house was gasoline-soaked.

Officers established an all-night watch at the house.

FAMILIES EVICTED

Mt. Clemens, (AP)—The families of 50 officers and enlisted men quartered at Selfridge field are being evicted to make room for personnel of the Tenth Airforce headquarters being transferred to the post.

Lewis Egged On By Steel Peace Deals

President May Act As Last Resort

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Hopes for labor peace in both the steel and coal industries hinged today on quickened settlement moves in the steel strike.

Government officials said they look for several major steel firms to come to terms this week with the striking CIO steelworkers.

CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—The spotlight in the soft coal strike shifted to Chicago today.

John L. Lewis, president of the striking 380,000 United Mine Workers and their 300-member policy committee had a meeting scheduled for 3:30 p. m. (EST) here for the announced purpose of considering all aspects of the 49-day strike.

They said this probably would egg on John L. Lewis and soft coal operators toward an agreement.

There were reports that President Truman may intervene in the coal situation if it continues hopelessly beyond this week.

Some officials favored Mr. Truman's naming a fact-finding board with power to recommend settlement terms. Such a method, which is outside the scope of the Taft-Hartley act, was adopted in the steel strike.

Murray Takes Hand

But other officials talked of possible use of the Taft-Hartley act powers to obtain strike-ending court injunctions.

Detroit Youths In Fatal Holdup

Truck Farmer Slain, Daughter Wounded

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—Police questioned nine Detroit youths today in the shotgun slaying of a 27-year-old Macomb county truck farmer.

One of those held was employed in 1947 by the victim, George Schmidt. He had been turned over to police by the farmer in connection with a gasoline station holdup.

A volley of shots through the door of Schmidt's home on Van Dyke road Saturday night killed him and critically wounded his three-year-old daughter, Mary.

One bullet lodged just above the little girl's heart. Attendants at St. Joseph's hospital in Mt. Clemens reported early today she was holding her own.

Schmidt's wife, Violet, who was in another part of the house with their young son at the time of the shooting, told police two youthful gunmen called her husband to the door and shouted, "this is a holdup."

They fired as he closed the door, she said.

Eighteen-year-old George Atkinson, Schmidt's former employee, and the eight other youths were picked up in East Side Detroit yesterday.

Kaiser Pushes Plans For Low-Priced Car

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corporation is pushing its plans for its long-rumored "low priced car in the low price field."

Board Chairman Henry J. Kaiser promised "delivery in quantity" on a standard sized five passenger car in 1950.

He also announced a nationwide contest with cash awards of $200,000 for naming the new vehicle.

The car, he declared, will have a retail price "within the income of millions who have never before been able to own a new automobile." But he did not give the price.

Archers Bag Deer

Allegan, Mich., Nov. 7 (AP)—Three archers bagged their deer Sunday in Allegan county's bow and arrow hunting season.

They are Reid Carlson, of Chicago, who got a 155-pound doe; W. B. Eckrood of Yellow Springs, O., who brought down a 175-pound buck; and R. J. De Vries of Kalamazoo, who shot a 60-pound fawn.

Weekend Traffic Accidents Fatal To 11 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Traffic accidents in Michigan claimed at least 11 lives this weekend, and fires caused two more deaths.

Most serious of the traffic mishaps was an automobile-oil truck crash in Dearborn that killed three Detroiters. Two small girls were struck and fatally injured by cars, one at Lapeer and one at Vandercook Lake.

Both fatal fires occurred Saturday in Saginaw county.

Victims of the truck-car collision were Marion Brue, 28, Mary Ella Jones, 32, and Ural Ross, 35. Jacqueline T. Cross, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cross of Lapeer, and five-year-old Rena Mitchell of Vandercook Lake were the children killed.

Jacqueline was playing on a highway near her home when she ran into a car. The Mitchell girl was struck by a car driven by her uncle as she played near her family's trailer home.

Lamp Explosion Fatal

A crash near Ann Arbor Saturday killed a 45-year-old Ann Arbor man and injured a truck driver and two teen-aged girls daughters of prominent Kalamazoo families.

Grover Leroy Klump, a passenger in the truck, lost his life. His companion, Arthur Schmitt, was seriously hurt, and Marilyn Kingscott and Carol May Bender, both 18, were shaken up.

The girls were on their way to the Michigan-Purdue football game at the time of the crash.

Mother Bares Kidnap Hoax, Confesses Baby Fell From Her Arms

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—A remorse-stricken mother has confessed that her six-week-old son was killed in a fall from her arms and that her story of kidnaping was "made up" out of fear of what her husband would say.

"I dropped my baby," Mrs. Stella Komorek blurted out at a coroner's inquest last night.

The sobbing admission, from the plump, 29-year-old mill worker's wife came 11 hours after the body of her son, Stephen, was found in a mill-pond, 500 yards from the modest Komorek home in nearby Clayville.

Coroner Preston R. Clark gave a verdict of accidental death. Authorities said no charge would be placed against Mrs. Komorek.

During hours of steady questioning by state police yesterday, she had clung to her story that the infant was snatched from its bassinet in the kitchen late Friday night by a strange man.

The infant's body, wrapped in a burlap bag, was found half-submerged in the snow-froinged pond by a state trooper not assigned to the case but "just having a look around."

An autopsy established that the child's skull was fractured and that he did not die of drowning.

During the inquest, Mrs. Komorek and her husband, an ex-marine who works as a machine tender in a paper mill, sobbed uncontrollably.

Komorek, 34, said he placed his arm around her as they left afterward for home with their lawyer.

Boy, 6, Admits Killing Brother

Police Study Strange Shooting At Milan

Milan, Mich., Nov. 7 (AP)—Law officers probed further today into the strange case of a six-year-old boy who they said deliberately loaded a heavy shotgun and killed his brother with it.

Monroe County Prosecutor Robert Sawyer planned to talk to little blond, blue-eyed Richard Rose, whose eight-year-old brother, Glen Leroy, was shot yesterday after a quarrel with Richard over some books. He died an hour later.

"Glen hit me and I got mad," State Police Trooper Arthur Kapler said Richard told him.

Then the youngster convinced officers he had fired the gun that fatally injured his brother by demonstrating just how he did it.

From several childish accounts Richard gave on the fight, Kapler figured this is about what happened.

The boys were alone in their home here and playing with several books in the kitchen. They began to quarrel. Young Richard dragged out a 12-gauge, pump action shotgun from behind a sewing machine.

Climbing up on a stool, he got some shells. Officers said he showed them how he held the gun to load it and fired at Glen, six feet away. The older boy was hit in the neck, shoulder and chest.

"When I didn't know what to do," Richard told Kapler, "I went and got some batteries. I started to put them on Glen, but they didn't stick."

He said he ran to a neighboring house to get his aunt, Mrs. Edna Stockwell, who has cared for the boys since their parents were divorced some time ago.

Glen Rose, Sr., 34, was chopping wood near the house, and he rushed his wounded son to St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor, where he died.

Red Bosses Accuse U.S.A. Of Fomenting War To Rule World

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Nov. 7 (AP)—Russia's Red leaders today led celebrations marking the 32nd anniversary of their 1917 revolution. Top political and military chiefs accused the United States of fomenting a new blood bath of war designed to make the world an American colony.

The main attack was made last night by Communist Politburo member Georgi M. Malenkov, who asserted that such a war would mean an end to capitalism in the world.

It was echoed today by Marshal Alexander M. Vasilievsky, minister of the Soviet armed forces, at the spectacular and traditional military ceremonies in Moscow's historic Red Square. Vasilievsky spoke briefly from atop the tomb where the Russian revolution's chief hero, Nikolai Lenin, lies in state in a glass coffin.

Vasilievsky accused "warmongers" of pursuing a "policy of aggression and unleashing of new wars." He called on the Russians to "fight still harder for the further growth of the might of our state."

Vasilievsky reviewed thousands of Russian foot soldiers, tanks and motorized weapons streaming for hours through Red Square. The aerial parade over the marching soldiers was led by Generalissimo Stalin's son, Gen. Vassily Stalin, flying in a fighter plane.

Malenkov hurled his charges at the United States last night as the principal speaker in ceremonies at Moscow's Bolshoi theater, inaugurating the anniversary celebration. He charged the United States was plotting "to enslave the entire world."

Malenkov vigorously asserted that the Soviets "do not want war and we shall do everything possible to avert it."

"In the hands of the imperialists," he declared, "atomic energy is a means for the production of lethal weapons, a means of intimidation, an instrument of aggression and coercion."

"But in the hands of the Soviet people," he continued, "it can be and must be a mighty instrument of technical progress on a scale never witnessed before, an instrument for the further rapid development of the productive forces of our country."

Malenkov called for "unconditional outlawing" of atomic weapons, establishment of "suitable" international control, and "condemnation of the preparations being conducted in certain countries, and in particular in the United States and Britain, for a new war."

America's "atomic diplomacy," said the speaker, "is now fully exposed."

"The U. S. A. thought they had a monopoly," Malenkov added. "But in fact the Soviet Union possesses the atomic weapon."

Malenkov continued: "If the imperialists unleash a third world war, this will not only be the grave of individual capitalist countries, but of capitalism as a whole."

More than 2,000 persons, including U. S. Ambassador Alan K. Kirk, heard Malenkov's address. Prime Minister Stalin was given a tremendous ovation as the ceremonies last night opened in the elegant, ornate, red velvet and gilt theater.

Malenkov's choice as last night's speaker confirmed him as a rising Soviet political star. Former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made the speech the two previous years.

In Politburo photographs published for the anniversary, Malenkov was placed at Stalin's left. But Molotov's photo still appeared at Stalin's right.

State police, noting the absence of a ransom demand, or other kidnap motive, privately had expressed doubt of Mrs. Komorek's story since she reported her baby kidnapped Friday night.

Nevertheless, they issued a 13-state alarm.

The infant's body, wrapped in a burlap bag, was found half-submerged in the snow-froinged pond by a state trooper not assigned to the case but "just having a look around."

An autopsy established that the child's skull was fractured and that he did not die of drowning.

Mother Cuts 4 Babies' Throats

Sterling, Ill., Woman Blames Saints

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 7 (AP)—A 35-year-old mother said last night she slashed the throats of her four small children because a "saint" kept telling her to do it.

The woman, Mrs. James Moughan, made the statement at a hearing in which she was adjudged insane within three hours after her husband found her hacking one of the children.

Hospital attendants said all the children are expected to recover. They are Mary Ellen, age two months; Richard, 20 months; Michael, three years old next month; and James, four.

Mrs. Moughan still wore the blouse and slacks splattered with the blood of her babies when she left the sanity hearing in a special night session of county court and was taken to the East Moline state hospital.

At the hearing before Judge Walter J. Stevens, she asked whether the children were still alive. Assured that they were, she said "it would be terrible—a disgrace—for them to go through life with scars."

Her husband, a steelworker, testified that Mrs. Moughan had not been well since the birth of their last baby.

The Veep paid several visits to St. Luke's hospital and took Mrs. Hadley flowers and magazines.

Mrs. Hadley is expected to be released from the hospital some time this week. The vice president has not indicated how long he will stay here.

Their wedding has been set for Nov. 18.

Troops Of U. S. Stay In Japan For Long Time

Peace Pact Proves Tough Problem

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The United States intends to keep troops in Japan for many years after the end of the allied occupation.

Diplomatic authorities said that decision has been reached by officials who, in trying to draw up a draft of a Japanese peace treaty, faced this tough problem:

How can Japan be given full political independence, while still keeping some protection against a growing Communist menace in Asia?

With their decision on this and other tough matters, state department planners have reached an advanced stage in their efforts to whip into shape a treaty of peace with the former enemy nation.

The next step must be consultation with Britain and other nations. U. S. planning has progressed far enough so that Secretary of State Acheson will be able to assure British Foreign Minister Bevin in Paris this week of U. S. readiness to start such talks in the near future.

No Punitive Treaty

The major provisions of the pact as now drafted by the state department call for:

1. An end to the allied occupation commanded by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as soon as the treaty is signed and ratified.

2. On orderly surrender by the occupation forces of the powers and duties of governing the country, and their subsequent withdrawal, as such. In about six months the Japanese government would have complete control of all the nation's internal and foreign affairs.

3. Denial to the new government of (a) The industrial capacity to build a modern war machine and (b) The right to create an army (which is also denied in the Japanese constitution).

4. Final cleanup of all reparations questions, including disposal of (Continued on page 5)

Sewer Cavein Traps Five Boys; One Dead

Lancaster, O., Nov. 7 (AP)—An eight-foot-deep open sewer ditch caved in yesterday on a group of five boys at play. Two were trapped. One was saved by the heroic efforts of a playmate.

The other died—crushed under the weight of more than a cubic yard of heavy sub-soil.

Two pairs of brothers and another boy were playing in the trench behind a house under construction. They were David Spung, 13, and his 12-year-old brother, Gary. There were Dick Smith, 12, and his 6-year-old brother, Jimmy. The fifth boy was Edward Crook, 13.

When one wall of the trench fell, David Spung and Jimmy Smith were trapped. David was dead when firemen uncovered his body.

Southland Shivers In Freezing Weather

(By The Associated Press)

The sunny south had the dubious distinction today of harboring the nation's coldest weather.

Temperatures were as much as 15 degrees below normal and a fairly widespread frost was feared. At midnight, the mercury had skidded to 32 degrees at Vicksburg, Miss. Meridian, Miss., had a midnight reading of 34 degrees and Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn., had 35.

The chill blast extended eastward to the coast with Atlanta shivering in 42 degrees. Jacksonville, Fla., reported 46 but the mercury was expected to go lower before sunrise.

Elsewhere over the nation temperatures generally were normal or above with skies clear.

Full House Sees Kiwanis Minstrel

Will Be Shown Again Tonight, Tuesday

William W. Oliver auditorium was packed to its doors Saturday night for the children's performance of the second annual Kiwanis club minstrel show.

The minstrel, benefit for boys and girls activities in the community, will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night in Oliver auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door.

Youngsters who saw the minstrel Saturday thoroughly enjoyed the songs, dance numbers and jokes in the show. It was excellently staged, with sets by Fred Johnson showing a plantation scene and the typical minstrel circle.

Janet Dixon to Play

In the first act, Dr. Neal Bailey as Colonel Abernathy, emceed the annual get-together after the Kentucky Derby. He brought out numbers which included medleys by the Barbershop octet, a Louisiana Hayride number with Mrs. M. H. Garrard as song and dance soloist and a chorus line. Both numbers drew heavy applause from the young audience. The Witham twins, with several vocal duets, also scored a hit. Fred Johnson, as an aged Negro, displayed a fine, expressive voice that touched the listeners as he sang an Old Man Mose solo.

Other numbers in the first act were an accordion solo by Donnie Anderson, and well-timed appearances of Arthur Vezina, as Micrombe, still carrying that very, very large horn.

Miss Janet Dixon of Gulliver will be featured in the first act tonight as accordion soloist. Miss Dixon, a student of Manistique high school, won superior rating for her playing at the Chicago-Land Music Festival this summer and has played before many groups. Prior to studying accordion with Manley Anderson of this city, she studied piano at Manistique.

The Jockey

George Grenholm conducted an unrehearsed talent show and led group singing during the olio. Five youngsters participated in the talent contest, in which each imitated a professional and mothers or old maid school teachers, and each received a special gift from the Kiwanis club.

Clarence Zerbel as the interlocutor and end men Dr. Neal Bailey, Dan Danielson, Bruce Packard, Ed Rudness, Harold Gasman, Wallace Smith and Vernon Berg scored well with their songs, jokes and traditional antics. A tambourine dance number, a sailor man solo by Erling Johnson, and songs by a Negro chorus of 100 voices were interspersed.

The show closes with a comedy routine in which the high school pep band comes down the aisles playing "Old Gray Mare" to herald the return of the jockey, Kryn Bloom, and the betting ticket. As he goes to pay off the boys, the jockey's wife, played by Mrs. Swank, comes out from the wings and sings "Rufus Rastus Brown, What You Gonna Do When the Rent Come Round."

Then Archie Wood, who droops across the stage several times, with carrots hanging from his ears, attempts to break up the "gambling ring." He is persuaded however to wait until the finale and the rousing show then swings into a "blacklight number," with "Great Day," "Say It With Music" and "Keep Your Bunny Side Up."

The production is directed by Mrs. Lois Swank, who also plays Mrs. Abernathy in the first act. Kryn Bloom is general chairman. Sam Ham directs the chorus which is heard throughout the show, and Bill Clark accompanies the production on the Hammond organ.

756 Delta Residents Receive $13,296 Old Age Benefits In Oct.

"Monthly benefits of $13,296 were paid to 756 residents of Delta county in federal old-age and survivors insurance payments last month," Carl L. Johnson, manager of the Escanaba Social Security Administration field office, announced today.

The monthly benefits are distributed as follows: 349 retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving $7,992; 101 retired worker's wives age 65 or over, receiving $1,128; 46 widows, age 65 or over, of insured workers, receiving $908; 36 widows of deceased insured workers, with children under age 18 in their care, receiving $670; 219 children, under age 18, of retired or deceased workers receiving $2,534; and 5 dependent parents of deceased workers receiving $64.

"Many people eligible to receive social security payments are not getting them, simply because they fail to fill out the necessary application forms," Johnson said. He emphasized the fact that payments are not automatic although there appears to be a widespread belief that they start automatically when an insured worker retires or dies.

"When a worker reaches 65, he should inquire at the nearest Social Security office about his rights, whether he continues working or not. Once a worker reaches 65 and is fully insured in the system, he is entitled to benefits for any month he is ill, unemployed, or taking an extended vacation. When an insured worker dies at any age, his family should inquire immediately. Delay in filing an application promptly is quite likely to result in lost benefits, since they can be made retroactive for only 3 months," Johnson said.

Balloon Parade On Wednesday

Stores To Remain
Open Until 10 p. m.

All merchants, except grocers and druggists, will close shop Wednesday morning but will remain open from 12 noon until 10 p. m. in compliance with a schedule adopted by the retail division of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce in connection with the Giant Balloon parade.

The more than a mile long parade of balloon figures will begin at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. Motorists are requested not to park on Ludington street an hour before the starting time so that the sidewalk crowds may obtain a good view of the parade.

There will be plenty of music in the parade. The Escanaba and Manistique bands and the Rock and Gladstone high school bands will march and give street corner concerts.

In going through the Panama Canal one travels a little more than 50 miles.

First Things First, Council's Attitude

THE reluctance of the Escanaba city council to sign a contract with the engineering firm of Townsend, Consoer and Associates of Chicago at this time for all of the engineering work on the proposed water filtration plant is understandable and sensible.

The Chicago firm has been employed at a cost of $1,000 to make a preliminary survey. The firm has requested the city to enter into a contract which would bind the city to utilize the firm of Townsend, Consoer and Associates for remaining phases of the project, drawing of plans, supervision of construction, etc. In all probability the firm will lose money, or at least it will not make any profit on the first phase of the work, the survey, which explains the firm's desire to secure a complete contract now.

It is virtually a certainty that if the water filtration plant project actually develops in 1950, the city will desire Townsend, Consoer and Associates to do the engineering work. The Chicago company has a fine reputation and considerable experience in construction of plants similar to the one that may ultimately be built here.

However, the councilmen want to see the results of the survey first. They want to know more about costs of construction and methods of financing. They want to know the effect upon water rates. And if the proposal is to be presented to the voters for decision, the councilmen want to know the results of that election before entering into a contract for the engineering work on subsequent phases of the project.

In selecting the firm of Townsend, Consoer and Associates to do the preliminary engineering survey, the council has practically committed itself to designating this firm for later phases of the project. The council believes, however, that the time has not yet arrived to enter into a formal and irrevocable contract for engineering work beyond the initial phase of the project. The attitude of the council on this issue is reasonable and sensible.

Learn More About Your School System

THIS is American Education Week, an occasion to focus public attention upon our great system of public and private schools and the work that they are doing to strengthen democracy in our land.

Most schools are making plans for visitations of parents this week. Such a program has a two-fold purpose. First, it provides an opportunity for parents to learn about the school system, how it operates, the facilities provided, the teaching techniques, the condition of school buildings, etc. Secondly, it enables parents to meet the teachers and to acquire some first-hand knowledge how their children are progressing in their various studies.

The strength of democracy depends upon education of the masses. Ours is a government by the people and unless the people are educated and sufficiently intelligent to make sensible decisions, democracy cannot succeed. That it is succeeding is a tribute to the school system of America.

The general theme for American Education Week this year is "Making Democracy Work". It is an appropriate theme symbolizing as it does the most vital objective of the entire educational program.

We are spending billions of dollars in this country today to provide educational opportunities for all of our people. Everyone agrees that it is money well spent and that we are getting a greater return on our educational dollars than on anything else which our tax dollars are buying.

British Will Gauge Socialization In 1950

THERE will be no general election in Great Britain until 1950. The Labor government has snubbed Winston Churchill's challenge to give Britons a chance now to vote on its policies.

Prime Minister Attlee has acted in this situation as almost any British leader would have done. He is under no compulsion to call an election at this time, and from the Labor party's viewpoint there are several advantages to be gained from deferring a popular decision.

Under British law a general election must be held at least every five years. The last one took place in 1945 when the Labor party won control. But a government may hold an election whenever it believes a test of popular sentiment is needed to clear the political atmosphere. Aside from the five-year rule, however, it is forced to go to the people only when it receives a vote of "no confidence" in parliament.

Attlee's government is in no such danger and hence he would be likely to seek a vote test only if convinced that the political situation at the moment were so badly confused as to handicap the execution of national policy. Yet that, too, does not appear to be the case.

On the other hand, Attlee and his party are no doubt extremely eager to have the nationalization of the iron and steel industry become law before popular reaction to the government's stewardship is gauged. The steel nationalization bill has been passed but does not become law until the spring of 1950. It was a big plank in the party's 1945 platform.

With the steel bill enacted, the Labor party will be able to claim that it has taken several strides toward the fulfillment of its Socialist promises. For the coal and transportation industries already have passed to government ownership.

Furthermore, the Labor government will have had many months more to work out its world trade problems symbolized by the "dollar crisis." By next summer the effect of the recent devaluation of the pound should be pretty clear. And the merit of proposals agreed to in Washington for long-range trade solutions ought also to be evident.

In other words, the present leaders will not feel it necessary to complain that, in the event of their defeat at the polls, they were tossed out of office before they had a fair chance to lick Britain's problems.

These advantages for the Labor party will have their political uses for the people as well. For it would be unwise from their standpoint to measure anything as strikingly new to them as a Socialist government short of a full test.

It is perhaps unfortunate that the nationalization of steel will have been in effect for so brief a span when the 1950 election occurs. Sound judgment of the consequences of the move will hardly be possible. But at least the people will have before them the record of many months' public ownership in other basic industries.

If there are indeed grave losses of freedom and initiative in a switch to socialism, the supporters of capitalist alternatives should not fear the results of a fairly staged trial run for the rival system. The facts will tell the story.

Uncle Sam Faces Financial Problem

THE federal government will run about five and a half billion dollars in the third year, according to present estimates, with the result that President Truman will probably ask the 81st congress in its second session for sharp increases in individual and corporation income taxes.

To produce the money needed to balance the budget on the basis of present expenditures, an across the board increase in income taxes of about 18% is required. Since this method of raising the additional funds would hardly be acceptable, it is probable that some rates would have to go up 25% while others are retained at present levels.

The developments are most discouraging to American taxpayers who have justifiably felt that taxes should be going down and not up. The problem of budget balancing will be complicated at the next session by the fact that 1950 is a general election year and every member of the house, as well as a third of the senate, will be up for election.

It is almost a certainty that the president will not be able to maneuver congress into voting the extra 5 1/2 billions that he will seek. Emphasis then will have to be placed upon economy although that isn't too popular with congressmen in an election year.

Our current tax bill for the federal government alone this year is $38 billions, which is about nine and one-half times the cost of running the entire federal government back in 1932. But the $38 billions is not enough and we are running $5,500,000 behind. Deficit financing in times like these when a high level of prosperity exists just does not make sense. The ultimate answer will have to be a more realistic approach to the federal financing problem, a drastic revision in expenditures. We are already paying as much money in taxes as it costs for food.

WORDS TO WATCH

On more than one occasion I have heard the word malfactor pronounced "MAIL-fae-tor." The mispronunciation results from the erroneous idea that malfactor is formed from male, "masculine; pertaining to man," plus factor. Indeed more than one reader has asked, "If a man wrongdoer is a malfactor, isn't a woman wrongdoer properly a female-factor?"

The male of malfactor and the word male (man) are not the same, nor are their skin. Male (man) is from the Latin masculine, "masculine." The male of malfactor is Latin for "ill; evil." It forms such words as malevolent, malediction, malice, malpractice, etc.

Malfactor, then, means literally "wrongdoer." The word is neither masculine nor feminine. Pronounce it: MAL'uh-FAK-tor.

The word lingerie, usually pronounced "LAWN-juh-ray" is a bargain - basement French, is, in the United States, as un-French a word as one could dream up in a month of Sundays. The French pronunciation, for example, is la(n)zh-REE, with the "a" flat as in lad and followed by the nasal sound. This pronunciation appears in all American dictionaries, but it has made little progress in this country, chiefly because of the American inability or unwillingness to voice the French nasal sound.

However, if lingerie were given the correct French pronunciation, the word would still be un-French in America, for here it is used as a euphemism for "women's silk underclothes and nightgowns," whereas, the literal meaning is "a linen closet; linen

Soviet Squeeze Put On Czechs

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Frankfurt, Germany.—The evidence grows that in every way, both big and little, the countries in the Russian orbit are carrying out the mandate of Moscow and squeezing out all elements that might offer even the most remote potential resistance. The conspicuous example, partly because American correspondents still in Prague report at least some of the news, is Czechoslovakia.

But in varying degrees the same thing is happening in Poland, Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria. All contacts with the west are being closed off in more accelerated and ruthless fashion.

American newspapermen are being excluded. My wife and I have been denied visas for Poland and Czechoslovakia, although two years ago I was permitted to visit Warsaw and wrote from there about the way in which the most-destroyed of all cities was being rebuilt.

RUSSIAN TROOPS MOVING?

Western diplomats are more and more sequestered. In Warsaw diplomats representing western nations have been forbidden to drive any distance east of the capital. The suspicion exists that this is because of Russian troop movements westward from the Russian - Polish frontier. However, it may be merely part of the war of nerves.

The greatest stress is put by Moscow on Czechoslovakia. One of the Cominform's most effective agents expressed it in a talk with me something like this:

"The example of Czechoslovakia will be most important. It will be a demonstration to the world that a highly organized industrial state also can become a Communist state. This will mean much more than the transformation of a primarily agricultural state such as Rumania or Hungary."

"You in America are making a great error in your interpretation of events in Czechoslovakia. You listen to the protests of those who have suffered from the adjustment and you interpret that to mean that Czechoslovakia's economy has been damaged whereas actually the opposite is true. The economy of Czechoslovakia has been strengthened."

According to reports trickling out of Czechoslovakia, this is largely propaganda. For the time being at least, production has been impaired and the country is poorer because of the drive to squeeze out the middle class and eliminate the small factory and the small-shop owner.

The small producer always has been an important part of the Czech economy. Figures for May of this year showed that 240,737 small firms had 753,601 employees. This included not alone retail distributors but 27,207 firms fabricating iron and steel with an average of less than four employees each. When the Sudeten Germans were driven out, many of the most able craftsmen in the production of glass and novelties, important in Czechoslovakia's prewar export trade, also were driven out.

CZECH GOODS SCARCE

Whether even in the long run new collectivized units will be more efficient is certainly doubtful. The trend in the United States is away from centralization and toward decentralization, experience having shown that the giant plant was often less efficient than the small plant.

Czech propaganda makes much of the fact that certain essentials have been taken off the ration. But the fact is that the moment they go off, the price goes sky high and the commodities are difficult or impossible to obtain.

There is one outstanding reality about the Czech economy today which should cause policy-makers in Washington to give serious thought to a new approach to at least this one satellite. Without essential supplies from the west—rubber, cotton and so on—Czech industry could not continue to produce at even the present levels.

The time has come, in my opinion, to review the trade balance with Czechoslovakia. If the Czech exports sent out to western Europe are not essential, and there is good reason to believe they are not, then it may be merely self-interest and ordinary common sense to stop the flow of essential commodities.

For the belief is growing among experienced observers that the real objective of Moscow in each of the satellite states is to build toward a central war economy. There is every reason why America should refuse to contribute to that process.

The immediate enemy against which all this effort, the purges and the ruthless collectivization is directed may be Yugoslavia. It may be defensive rather than offensive. But if the satellites can be reduced to complete subjection, and the indications are that the resistance in Czechoslovakia to the current tyranny is more and more feeble and passive, then Moscow will have achieved a larger goal and the fate of Yugoslavia will in a sense be irrelevant.

clothes collectively." It is from lingere, the French word for "linen." The Frenchman, then, is amazed at such terms as "silk lingerie."

Occasionally one hears the word as LAN-juh-ree or LAN-rhuh-ree, either of which is much closer to the work than "LAWN-juh-ray." Of the three, I should choose LAN-zhuh-ree as a good compromise.

Macabre is a French loan word which Nouveau Petit Larousse explains as perhaps derived from Macabre, another form of Machebe, the name of a painter.

A good definition of macabre is found in the New Century: "Pertaining to or suggestive of the allegorical dance of death (danse macabre) as represented in late medieval art, as by a skeleton. Death dancing with all conditions of men; hence gruesome." The American pronunciation is: muh-KAH-ber, muh-KAH-pruh.

Some Day One of Them Will Lean Over Too Far

Good Evening
By Clint Dunathan

THE BLEAK DAYS—Autumn has its high spots, and its low ones. There is Halloween and Thanksgiving, both cheerful and heart-warming times.

And then there are days when the wind rides the back of flying snow clouds, carrying a knife in its teeth, grimly intent on ending the last lingering days of Indian Summer.

Fretful gusts carry aimless snowflakes through the air. The sky is leaden gray and the bare limbs of trees toss fitfully before the wind.

The color and the warmth of Autumn are gone before the grim raiders from the north. Leaves that have clung through Autumn storms rattle resentfully and then are blown to the ground, there to fade and become no more than humus in the ever-changing pattern of the seasons.

AND BRIGHTNESS—In the woods these days there are patches of lingering color that attract the eye and enliven the scene.

Blue jays are flashes of vivid color among the bare leaves of the beech trees, and bittersweet unfolds its bright orange seed pods against the dull browns and grays of the trees. Still in summertime green are the ferns and the trailing evergreens that in places carpet the forest floor. And not to be overlooked is the ruddy coat of the deer, an elegant red, with a white "flag" gaily dipping at the stern.

Even the dullest day has its compensating warmth and color, both in the woods and in town.

FARM LIFE—Now the potato harvest is ended and fall plowing is almost done, farming takes on a slower tempo.

The corn crib is bulging with golden cobs, the cellar is well stocked with home canned foods, and the farmer and his family look forward to the long winter evenings at home. The coal is in the bin and the wood pile is still growing, extending from the back door way down toward the orchard fence.

In the evenings the children gather around the big table in the kitchen to do their lessons, or to read and listen to the radio. The fire crackles in the kitchen stove and here there is light and warmth, in contrast to the dark wind against the window pane.

Before retiring the farmer goes to the barn, there to see that things are as they should be for the night. Here is the sweet smell of milk cows and the heavy breathing of the sleepy animals.

THE QUIET TIME—Approaching winter brings its reward in the city as well as in the country, for people everywhere appreciate the opportunity to relax after a summertime of outdoor activity.

Home has new welcome and significance. Its warmth and comfort have an appeal lodged deep in human experience, dating back to the dawn of time when the threat of winter made the home fire an island of security in an ocean of uncertainty.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Dr. K. F. Harrington was elected president of the Escanaba Kiwanis club yesterday. He succeeds Edward E. Rudness. Escanaba—Capt. James B. Gallagher, who in his 40 years of maritime service has never had a ship accident, has received notification that he has been appointed pilot on one of the ferry boats operated at the Straits of Mackinac by the state highway department. He formerly was master of the Str. Joseph W. Simpson, owned by the Sawyer-Stoll lumber company.

Escanaba—Dr. Fred O. Tonney has been appointed director of the Delta County Health department. He formerly was associated with the Chicago department of public health.

Twenty Years Ago

Manistiquette—Word has been received here that Magnus Klagstad of Rochester, Minn., a former resident of Manistiquette has bought a large building and is converting it into an apartment house.

Gladstone—William J. Mottel has left on a business trip to New York city and North Carolina for the Northwest Cooperage company.

Escanaba—Louis Follo left last night for Everett, Wash., where he will spend the winter with relatives.

Escanaba—Harold Cook, 24, was rushed to St. Francis hospital yesterday for treatment of a bruised leg and chin suffered when a 55 foot pole on which he was working fell to the ground. Cook was working near Cornell.

Every citizen in a democracy has a right to gainful employment. The physically handicapped become valuable assets to the community when given this opportunity.—Murray D. Lincoln, Ohio Farm Bureau leader.

The way to determine whether the B-36 is an invincible as the air force says or as vulnerable as the navy says is to have the test. It is as simple as that.—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.).

cle, the first and most lasting unit of social life.

BREAKING THROUGH—This feeling of unity within the family, the instinctive urge to be together for protection and human comfort, disappears to a degree when the sun shines again.

Strange as it may seem, the lifting of the fog, the warmer air and withdrawal of the threatening snow storm, brings the return of the individual's desire for adventuring on his own.

Children are no longer content to stay indoors but must go out to play with their friends, finding a sense of relief and release in breaking those ties that, temporarily at least, bound them close to home. The family circle may be the first and most lasting unit of social life—but it is also the most primitive.

WHEN WINTER COMES—The transition of Autumn into Winter brings an end to the feeling of insecurity. The long winter is at hand, preparations not already made to meet it are now too late, and there comes a feeling of enjoyment in the season that was once a period of hardship and suffering.

Meanwhile these few bright Autumn days that fly like colored leaves in the face of advancing winter are doubly appreciated. They are reminders of the pleasant season past, and promise that no season need be dreary—if you want to look on the pleasant side.

Why So Soon

Dear Editor:

Most of us are confused by international, national and state affairs, yet we have had one oasis of stability in our social and economic orders, namely, the sensible and confidence-installing functioning of local government and community management. BUT—I wonder now.

The other day when the street decorations went up on the midway of Escanaba was when I asked myself, "Have I been a victim of amnesia? Did not Indian summer just bid a reluctant goodbye? Isn't there a deer season in the offing and a Thanksgiving Day to come?"

Despite my eccentric personality I have a few friends and they informed me that I had been around and quite consciously so. Such assurances gave me the confidence to write this.

I am not, in my opinion, a rabid conformist but I like my previews and build-ups a bit closer to that glorious holy day, which has been all too highly commercialized even before this. I want to look forward to Christmas, to have my emotional thrills in anticipation of its coming gather momentum and reach their climax at the psychological moment, to wit: the 25th day of December.

I am selfishly fearful that unless I hibernate from here on in my Christmas spirit will be as worn, forlorn, ragged and unsatisfying as the evergreen festoons will be about the middle of next month. Don't take them down, I am also financially conservative, an eccentric quality too—but please don't start playing Christmas carols before my buck is in the freezer and my turkey on the platter.

Wondering.

So They Say

The Communists have been forcing us to spend money beyond our saddest dreams. . . with the result that the restive taxpayer is looking. . . under the rug for Curt and waste more diligently than he has for a long time—which is a very healthy thing.—Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Part of the problem today is the way science has been changing life for 100 years, and with increasing rapidity. . . The atom has made us conscious of the impact on daily life. We have to think about it now.—John Dewey, dean of American philosophers.

This is no time for Fancy Dans who won't hit the line with all they have on every play, unless they can call all the signals.—Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, during unification hearing.

The old struggle between specialized and general education is still a critical one. Specialization is not producing the well-grounded citizenry requisite to a well-ordered democracy.—Dr. John L. Knight, president of Baldwin-Wallace college.

Dollar devaluation by hiking the gold price is in the works. There will be denials just as Sir Stafford Cripps denied the British would devalue (the pound sterling) until the moment they did so.—Sen. George W. Malone (R., Nev.).

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—It's easy to understand why the air admirals are boiling mad at unification. To some extent you have to sympathize with them.

What they can't forget is that for years the navy's airmen had to fight the battleship admirals and now, just as the airplane carrier has come into its own, they find themselves stymied by unification.

The admirals who put up this long running-fight with the old-fashioned battleship admirals include such brilliant officers as Gerald Bogan, Arthur Radford, L. T. Sprague and Jack Towers, now retired. Thirty years ago, just out of Annapolis, they went into the relatively new naval aviation as fliers and worked up to the top. They were convinced that the future of the navy lay in the air. They had the courage to believe this even at a time when most of the admirals swore that nothing could ever sink a battleship.

During the recent campaign in the Pacific, Admiral Sprague had the experience of commanding Carrier Squadron 22 with several other higher ranking admirals taking orders from him. Because operating carriers in battle formation, with their network of protecting airplanes and destroyers, is such a skilled job, Sprague, a junior, was in command. When the squadron put into Pearl Harbor or any other base, the senior admirals, untrained in carrier battle formation, then took over.

With the war over and the battleship being laid up in mothballs, naval aviation at long last appeared about to achieve full recognition. Whereupon congress passed the unification act, and with it, the chief air responsibility went to the air force. No wonder the air admirals are indignant!

NAVAL CARRIERS' HEROISM

The full story of the navy's airplane carriers was one of the most heroic of the war, and the heroism was even greater because of a serious defect discovered in the carriers after the navy had built most of them.

This defect—like most of the navy's trouble—was due to faulty engineering and bad planning. Airplane-carrier designers had failed to take into consideration the possibility that decks were vulnerable and that once the deck of a carrier was torn up, no plane could take off.

The Japs, however, soon discovered this. The result was that suicide Jap fighter planes dived for the deck of carrier after carrier with deadly casualties. Entirely aside from the tragic loss of life, so many carriers were put out of commission that they had to be sent all the way through the Panama Canal to the Atlantic coast for repairs. The west coast yards were too full.

OKINAWA LOSSES

At one time during the battle of Okinawa, virtually all of the navy's carriers were either en route back to the U. S. for repairs or en route to battle after being repaired. The shipyards at Pearl Harbor were full. The west coast yards were at capacity, and the east coast yards had to handle the overflow—despite the extra time necessary to carry the limping vessels through the Panama Canal.

Thus one Jap suicide plane could put a carrier out of commission for four to six months.

The British, foreseeing this, equipped their carriers with armored decks. Toward the end of the war, new American carriers were also built with armored decks. But it took a long time for the navy to wake up to its mistake.

Experience in the Pacific proved that carriers were at their peak effectiveness in making surprise raids on the enemy. If carriers had to stay in one place, as at Okinawa, they suffered unmercifully. But if they could sneak up on the Japanese mainland under cover of night, make their attack at dawn, and then retreat, their losses were much less.

BATTLE OF LEYTE BLUNDER

It was the battle of Leyte, where carriers also played an important part, which convinced many navy men that unification was necessary.

The command in the battle of Leyte was divided as follows. General MacArthur commanded not only the army but the western fleet under Adm. Tom Kincaid. It was Kincaid's job to protect the landing of MacArthur's troops. The rest of the fleet was under Admiral Nimitz who had delegated the immediate command to Admiral Halsey.

Halsey was supposed to keep Kincaid advised at all times of his movements, but not take orders from him. During the course of the battle, Halsey advised Admiral Kincaid that a squadron of Jap vessels were coming toward the Philippines from the north, and at X-time he would break away from the major battle and give chase.

When the appropriate time arrived, Admiral Halsey picked up his fleet telephone and told his commanders that X-time had arrived and to carry out their orders, previously received. His part of the fleet thereupon sailed off to the north. The battleships went with him.

However, Halsey's fleet telephone did not have the range to reach a part of his fleet. This part, consisting of smaller vessels, remained along the Philippine coast virtually unprotected.

It was suspected a few days later that the Japanese attack from the north was actually a feint in order to draw Halsey away from the major part of the battle of Leyte; and afterward, information captured from Japanese admirals substantiated this suspicion.

SURPRISE JAB ATTACK

Furthermore the feint almost succeeded in seriously impeding the course of the war. For, the next night, a Japanese squadron, steaming at top speed, caught the southern part of Halsey's fleet and riddled the smaller ships. The range was so close that shells went through both sides of the vessels.

What the Jap commander did not know was that the heavier American ships had exhausted their ammunition the night before and were powerless to fire back. Had he known this, and stayed on mop up on the practically defenseless fleet, the capture of the Philippines and perhaps the end of the war might have been delayed.

Bob St. Martin Named President

Elect Other Officers At Boys' Conference

Robert St. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer St. Martin, 509 South Ninth street, was elected president of the 1950 Older Boys conference, at the annual conference for high school boys held Friday and Saturday in Ishpeming.

The 375 boys attending the conference chose St. Martin from a nominating slate of four. Iggy Babladelis of Manistique was elected vice president and Jack Fortier of Iron Mountain was elected secretary. A Sault Ste. Marie boy was elected treasurer.

St. Martin is the second Escanaba boy to be elected president of the conference in the past three years. Charles Benzinger headed the group at the Iron Mountain conference in 1948.

Cliff Drury, associate executive secretary of the Michigan YMCA, Lansing, was in charge of plans for the conference, which attracted boys from nearly every high school in upper Michigan.

As a troop transport, during the conference, boys in Escanaba, but final plans on this have not been disclosed. When Allan Mathison of Escanaba and his delegation of 18 students from EHS and St. Joseph's left Saturday, the Escanaba standing invitation was the only one on record.

Frank Liddle, Indiana YMCA secretary, was principal conference speaker and discussed home planning, vocational selection, and marriage. General Ray F. Farrand, president of St. John's Military academy in Culver, Wis., delivered an inspiring banquet speech Saturday noon. His theme was "A Man Is Determined by the Way He Eats and by the Way He Overcomes His Difficulties and His Problems."

Drury Speaks To Rotarians

Cites Older Youth Groups Needs

Cliff Drury of Marquette, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, today in an address to the Escanaba Rotary club cited the need for youth service among the group that has completed high school but is not yet 21 years old.

In any consideration of the problems of young people, it is important for organizations such as yours to consider extending youth service to what was, in the early 1930 depression days, called the "lost generation," Drury said.

He pointed out that major crimes in the United States now occur in the 21-year-old age bracket, and said he believes they are in part caused by lack of parental supervision during the war years.

Drury also commented on the recent Older Boys Conference at Ishpeming, and the election as 1950 conference president of Bob St. Martin of Escanaba. Such conferences, together with Youth and Government Conferences, do much toward providing road citizenship education, he said.

William Karas, Rotary president, and superintendent-engineer of the Delta county road commission, urged Rotarians to be sure and vote in the Nov. 10 special road millage referendum.

Roads benefit all of the people of the county and failure to vote in the election shows a lack of interest in roads—and in the welfare of the community, Karas said.

"We can expect no money from the state. We need help to carry on a road program. The only place we can now expect help is from the people of Delta county," Karas concluded.

State School Code Revision Suggested

By Dr. Lee Thurston

Lansing, Nov. 7. (AP)—Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, said today he has suggested to Governor Williams a general revision of the state's school code.

Thurston said he proposed that the governor ask the 1950 legislature to appropriate about $25,000 for the recodification job, with the new draft to be submitted to the 1951 legislature for enactment.

"The present school code was written 20 years ago," Thurston said, "and is filled with inconsistencies and conflicts. Naturally a lot of new school law has been written in the interim, and the whole thing needs reworking. Some of the conflicts and confusions in the present code are hampering school operations."

The governor has taken the proposal under advisement, but has given no indication of his plans, Thurston said.

Lewis Egged On By Steel Deals

49th day, the steel strike in its 37th.

Of the two stoppages, the worse effects have come from the coal mine walkout, which curtailed train service and created fuel shortages for many households. But lack of steel has hit manufacturers.

Steel settlement prospects looked brighter with the return to Pittsburgh of Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the striking steelworkers union.

Murray, busy with the CIO convention at Cleveland last week, now can give full time to pressing on the rest of the industry the peace terms already accepted by the Bethlehem Steel Corp., second largest steel producer.

The Bethlehem settlement provided for a $100 minimum monthly pension including government social security benefits, along with a social insurance program. It did not include a wage increase.

An offer has been made to Murray's union by Republic Steel Corp., third largest steelmaker, but its terms have not been disclosed. Charles M. White, Republic president, said it is "not the Bethlehem plan."

Coal Truce Hinted
Attorneys for the company and the union met yesterday to iron out language of the proposed agreement, indicating that settlement was near.

Peace talks with the steelworkers also were scheduled for early this week by Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., and Youngstown Sheet and Tube, both major producers.

Murray also may soon take up the invitation to negotiate issued by the country's largest producer, U. S. Steel Corp.

Over the weekend a new steel strike broke out as 10,000 of Murray's union members left their jobs at five plants of the Timkin Roller Bearing Co., over the pension-insurance demand.

Harry Mayfield, president of the Steelworkers' local at Timkin's Columbus, O., plant, predicted an early settlement.

The government, apparently expecting the steel strike to end soon, has turned its mediation efforts on the coal stalemate.

Cyrus S. Ching, mediation service director, called in Southern coal operators for talks this afternoon (2:30 p. m. EST). Ching expects to meet with Northern and Western producers later in the week.

Meanwhile, mine strike leader Lewis was in Chicago for a union strategy meeting.

Lewis was still seeking a pace-setting pay-welfare contract agreement with Illinois operators. But so far they have refused to make any deal separate from the rest of the nation's mine owners.

There was no hint of Lewis' purpose in calling the union policy committee together. Speculation ranged from a possible truce ending the mine walkout temporarily, to a broadened strike call.

Lewis hinted a week ago that he may also call out the 100,000 miners still at work. These are the 80,000 employed in Pennsylvania's anthracite pits and 20,000 working in soft coal mines west of the Mississippi River.

Troops Of U. S. A. Stay On In Japan

tion of former Japanese enemy assets in allied and neutral countries.

5. Final removal of territories from Japanese control in accordance with the wartime Cairo agreement, as well as the surrendering of Japanese rights over the Pacific mandated islands.

6. Guarantees of basic civil rights, including the basic principles of western political democracy, such as free elections.

7. Commitments of Japanese membership in international organizations and treaties. It now seems likely that the Japanese will be required to make friendship and trade treaties with the principal allies, to establish itself in the family of nations.

As presently conceived this military pact will provide for U. S. land, sea and air bases in Japan for five to ten years.

Their primary purpose, responsible informants said, would be to secure the islands against any Communist attack from the Asiatic mainland. The move also would make Japan an American bastion in the cold war.

Roscoe B. Huston, Colorful Detroit Postmaster Dead

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 7. (AP)—Roscoe B. Huston, 68, colorful postmaster of Detroit, died Sunday at his summer home in Michigan Center near here.

A veteran Democrat, he was appointed chief of Detroit's postal system in 1933 by President Roosevelt, and had served continuously since, although the target of several investigations.

He was found dead in his bed by his wife, Audrey. Dr. Daniel Landron of Michigan Center said death was caused by coronary thrombosis.

Mrs. Huston said that she and her husband had attended the Michigan-Purdue football game in Ann Arbor Saturday. They played cribbage before retiring, she said, and Huston did not complain of feeling ill.

His alma mater was one of his chief interests and he claimed to have missed only two Michigan home football games in 52 years.

He was a close friend of the late Fielding H. Yost, Michigan coach. Huston's first wife, Adelaide, divorced him in 1933, on the ground that he neglected his home for politics. In 1940, he married Mrs. Christine J. McDonald, who died four years later.

In July, 1947, he married Mrs. Audrey Podio. They purchased a summer home in Michigan Center, and Mrs. Huston has been serving as postmistress there.

Weekend Traffic Mishaps Kill 11

An autopsy is scheduled in the Sunday death of 20-year-old Delmar Dowdy of Flushing. Authorities will seek to determine whether he suffered fatal injuries when the rear of his car was struck in Owosso or died of a heart attack.

Another youth, 18-year-old Willis Richard Borton of Vesta, was killed early Sunday when his car went off M-46 near Edmore and returned. A passenger, Jack Keeler, 14, was injured.

The other traffic victim was William P. Ostrowski 22 of Royal Oak. He was killed Saturday when his car ran into another on East eight Mile Road in Detroit.

Fred A. Belanger, 59, and Thomas J. De Long, 55, were the fire victims.

A kerosene lamp exploded in Belanger's hands at his home on St. Mary's hospital.

De Long, night watchman in a Saginaw lumber company, was found fatally burned in the ruins of his shack behind the company property. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Deer Hunting Data Issued

Conservation Dept.
Answers Queries

Bernard Stephansky, Regional Supervisor of the Field Administration Division in the Upper Peninsula, reports that numerous inquiries are made at various District Conservation Headquarters pertaining to the following deer hunting regulations:

Q. Are permits necessary to transport deer through other states when travelling to Lower Michigan?

A. Michigan resident deer hunters who find it necessary to transport their deer through Wisconsin, Illinois and/or Indiana, en route to their homes must obtain a permit to do so. These permits may be obtained from Conservation Headquarters at Wakefield, Baraga, Crystal Falls and Escanaba. They may also be obtained from the State Police Post at Iron Mountain and the U. S. Forest Service Ranger Station at Watersmeet.

Q. Is it permissible to have a deer cut up and frozen before transporting it?

A. Should hunters find that their venison is likely to spoil because of warm weather before reaching home, they may obtain a permit from any Conservation Officer or Conservation Headquarters allowing them to take their deer to a commercial locker plant of his choosing and have it packaged and frozen. This permit, in possession of the permittee, will authorize the transportation of the packaged venison, properly identified, to his home or other place of storage. All such permits are issued to expire on December 2, 1949.

Q. May a person who resides temporarily out of Michigan transport his deer there?

A. Michigan resident hunters who are temporarily residing in another state must obtain a special permit to transport or ship his deer to their temporary residence. These permits may be obtained from Conservation District Headquarters only, located at Baraga, Crystal Falls, Escanaba and Newberry.

Q. How much time does a hunter have to get his buck out of the woods?

A. Hunters have 48 hours after the close of the season to get their deer out of the woods.

Q. What should a licensed hunter do if his seal is defective?

A. In the event a hunter's deer seal is defective, or accidentally becomes locked, he may obtain a duplicate seal from any Conservation Officer. Duplicate seals are not issued to replace lost seals.

Q. What are the regulations pertaining to persons under 17 years of age?

A. Minors under 17 may secure hunting licenses only on application of parent or guardian. Such minor must be accompanied by parent or guardian, or someone over 17 authorized by parent or guardian, when hunting deer or when hunting other species upon lands on which such minor is not regularly domiciled. Persons UNDER 14 YEARS OF AGE MAY NOT HUNT DEER.

VFW Club Is Robbed Of $89

Entrance Attempted At Eagles Club

The VFW club, 1305 Ludington, was broken into Sunday night or early Monday morning and $89.25 was stolen from the top drawer of a cash register. An attempt also was made to break into the Eagles club, 608 Ludington, but the intruders apparently were frightened away after they had smashed the glass portion of a door. Police theorize that the thief or thieves attempted the Eagles burglary first and that after being frightened off by the crash of breaking glass, they went to the VFW club. They tried to gain entrance through the front door and failing in that, they went to the rear. They pasted adhesive tape across a window, presumably to minimize the noise of glass breakage but later discovered that the window was unlocked and gained entrance merely by raising the window frame.

The cash register was pried open and the cash taken from the top drawer but money located in a lower drawer was undisturbed. Police have taken a cast of footprints found near the window and are investigating for possible fingerprints.

Mrs. Emma Sly, Munising, Dies At Home Nov. 5

Munising, Mich.—Mrs. Emma Sly, 79, of 114 Pine street, died at 4:30 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 5, at her home. She had been in poor health for four years.

Truck To Haul Fish Shipments

C&NW Will Provide Special Service

Menominee, Mich.—The Chicago & North Western railroad today advised the Menominee Chamber of Commerce that beginning Monday, mail and express will be trucked to Green Bay at approximately the same time (5:15 p. m.) as when Train No. 224 left here in the past. The road is using two brothers, Alfred and Fred Bonner of Munising, and two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Fisher of Harbor Springs, Mich., and Mrs. Nellie Betway of Flint.

The body was removed to Beaulieu funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

announced earlier last week that the train would be moved up about three hours beginning Monday to leave Menominee at 2:25 p. m.

Action to supplement mail and express service follows a meeting held Thursday in Marinette protesting the change as working a hardship on shippers, particularly commercial fishermen. The fishermen stated they would be unable to prepare, pack and ice their day's catches in time for the train at 2:25 p. m. which would leave them with only the late night train for their shipments. Train No. 224 is known as the "fish train" because it carried large fish shipments, averaging about two tons daily and as much as 17 tons a day during the heavy fishing season.

The trucking service will be available only from Menominee south which will cause revisions in outgoing mail service to communities north of here between Menominee and Escanaba. At Wallace, Postmaster Orin Melchior said persons wishing mail to be dispatched on the afternoon train must have it at the Wallace post-office not later than 1 p. m. The new schedule puts arrival of the train at Wallace at 2 p. m.

MAN IS YOUNG

While the earth must be two thousand million years old, man probably has existed on it only about 300,000 years, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Boy Is Killed On Motorscoot

Ronald Morin, 10,
Drives Into Car

Stephenson—Ronald Morin, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morin of Stephenson, was fatally injured at 11 a. m. Saturday when the motorscoot he was riding collided with an automobile in the street near the high school.

The car was driven by Homer Clifford of Banat and was meeting a truck going in the other direction when the Morin boy started to cross the street and collided with the Clifford car.

The boy was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital in Menominee where he died at 8:40 p. m. Saturday.

Born at Schaffer on Jan. 17, 1939, Ronald Morin has lived at Stephenson with his parents since 1944.

Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, Joseph Jr. and Leonard, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Charles Carin of Escanaba and Mrs. Felix Gaus of Turin.

The body is at the Diehm funeral home, Stephenson, where children of the parish of the Church of the Precious Blood, of which he was a member, recited the rosary this afternoon. The rosary will be said by the parish at 8 o'clock tonight.

Funeral services will be held at 8:40 a. m. Tuesday at the Diehm funeral home, and at 9 a. m. at the Church of the Precious Blood with the Rev. Fr. Albert J. Treilles officiating.

Burial will be in Stephenson township cemetery.

John N. Deglman, 76,
Dies In Marquette

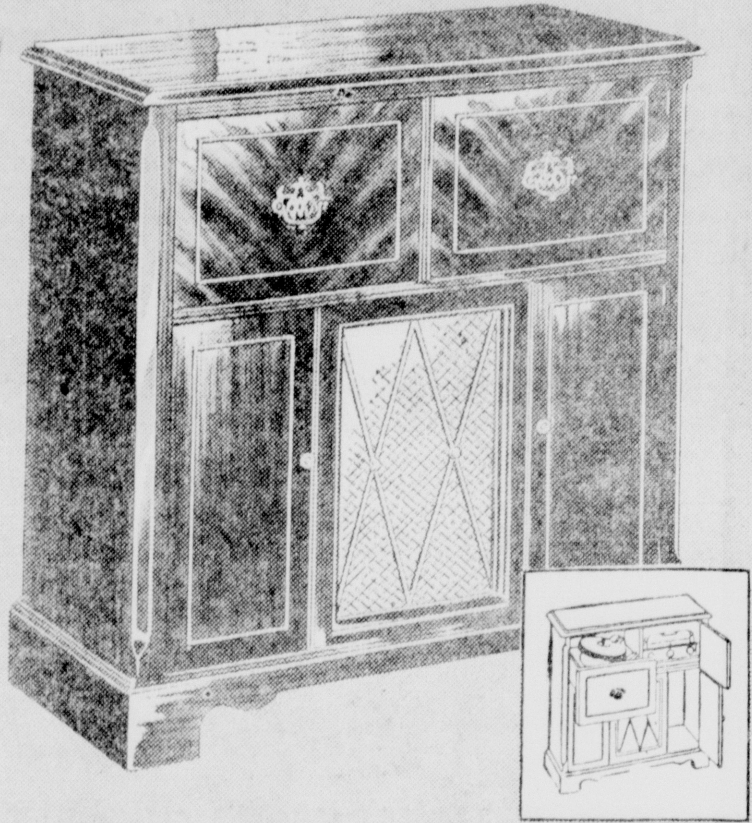

Marquette, Mich., (AP) — John N. Deglman, 76, former hotel proprietor, died Saturday morning in St. Mary's hospital after a short illness.

He was a partner in the Roberts-Deglman Hotel Co. and managed the Hotel Northland here until 1936, when his son, the late Leon Deglman, purchased the firm. The younger Deglman died two years ago.

A native of Mankato, Minn., he managed hotels in that state before coming to Upper Michigan. He and his son managed the Hotel Ojibway in Sault Ste. Marie before the elder Deglman came to Marquette 20 years ago.

DIDN'T BELIEVE IT

English art critics ridiculed the work of American landscape painters when the latter exhibited pictures showing the brilliant colors of American autumn. The Britons believed the colors to be pure imagination, since English foliage does not change to brilliant hues in the fall.

Hussey Preaches Geology Gospel

U. Of M. Professor Studied Rocks Here

By PETER HUTTON
Ann Arbor, Mich. — A "high priest of education" might be another name for Prof. Russell C. Hussey of the geology department. His theory is to "carry the gospel of geology to as many persons as possible and to acquaint them with the earth they live on."

HUSSEY has already spent more than 30 years on this gospel, for he has traveled all over the country and then some.

Wherever he goes, whether on business or pleasure, he manages to pack in some lantern slides and is ready to talk to anyone at the drop of a geology hammer.

His first interest in geology came when he went to high school in Colorado. "At that time we had geology in high school and our fieldtrips took us all through mountains, canyons and national parks," he said.

HE CAME to the University for his bachelor's degree, but the World War delayed his doctorate until 1920. He claims that the war cured his rambling, but it didn't stop his seeing all 48 states.

Usually a doctor's thesis is completed before a student gets his degree, but Hussey is still working on his.

Its climax will come when the Michigan Geological Survey photographs and publishes some of the fossils he collected around Escanaba in the Upper Peninsula for his thesis.

ONE OF HUSSEY'S secrets in teaching is his fascination in his subject. Every time he sees something in his teaching, he is just as interested as the first time he saw it.

"Every time I see a formation or reconstruction in geology I learn something new," he commented.

Another secret of his popularity is to throw out all notes in lectures.

"WHEN STUDENTS see a professor lecturing from notes, they have his number right off and he has two strikes against him from the start," he declared.

"If your interest lags, it is time to quit teaching," he added.

Hussey's technique is also aided by his lantern slides. He has 3,000 of them, all hand-painted, which he collected from his travels. And he's the best authority to talk on them because he took most of the pictures himself.

WHEN THE University inaugurated fieldtrips each summer to Niagara Falls, Hussey conducted and spoke on them.

Because of high costs of transportation, the University was forced to give up the Niagara trips. But Hussey still takes geology students through Michigan, Ohio and Ontario during the summers.

BESIDES HAVING traveled and studied in the 48 states, Hussey has acquainted himself with the British Isles and Southern France. He has always been interested in archeology as well as geology and hopes someday to go to North Africa to study the ancient cities there.

Another area he'd like to explore is the ancient caves of Southern France and to study the cave-drawings of Neanderthal and Cro-Magnon men.

Next summer he plans to go to the University's geology camp in Wyoming and then to Oregon and Washington. On the return trip he hopes to go by Lake Louise in British Columbia.

HUSSEY'S life-long hopes are to work on the ancient cliff-dwellings and Pueblos in the Southwest.

He has an answer for everything. Asked why he had a picture of a cathedral in his office, he replied, "Some people just can't connect geology with Genesis, but when we show them geological works by famous men of religion, they're satisfied."

Painless Dentistry Without Tooth Drill Due In Near Future

San Francisco (AP)—You soon may have "painless" dentistry that really doesn't hurt—tooth drilling without drills.

The millenium for tender-toothed dental patients may be reached within a year the American Dental Association convention learned here.

The new method involves a machine invented by Dr. R. B. Black, Corpus Christi, Tex., and perfected by the S. S. White Dental Manufacturing Co., of Philadelphia.

Instead of drilling, it uses a blast of carbon dioxide gas, shot at 75 pounds a square inch pressure through a nozzle only 18 thousandths of an inch in diameter.

A finely ground abrasive, aluminum oxide, is carried against the tooth to be drilled by the high pressure gas and does the cutting finely and precisely.

The benefits are lack of vibration, heat or bone - conducted sound, all of which combined to produce the "hurt" in tooth drilling.

Unemployment Claims Increase

High Claim Filing To Last Two Weeks Here

Manistique.—Due to temporary shutdowns in two of the major industries in Manistique, claims for unemployment compensation benefits jumped during the week ending 10-27-49 to 311 and in week ending 11-3 to 344. During the week ending 9-15-49, a total of only 88 claims had been filed which shows the sizable increase in claims filing from the middle of September to Nov. 1. In the corresponding week in October in 1948, Manistique total claims were only 47. Even without this temporary surge of claims during the past couple of weeks, average claims filed weekly in Manistique during 1949 are 87 per cent over 1948.

Following this upsurge in claims activity, industrial unemployment compensation benefits paid on November 3 amounted to $7,718.50; in addition a total of $291 was paid out on Service-men's Readjustment Allowance benefits on the same day. In the week ending 9-15-49, total industrial benefits paid in Manistique amounted only to $1165 in addition to $200 paid out in Service-men's Readjustment Allowance benefits.

From present indications, the high claims filing in Manistique will last for approximately two weeks at which time it is anticipated that both temporary shutdowns will be over and the men will return to work. The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission continues to have inter-ant service at the city hall from 10:30 a. m. to 2 p. m., on Thursdays of each week. During the present peak claims period, itinerant service is offered on the main floor of the city hall building. When claims fall to the 1949 average level, service will again be continued on the second floor of the city hall. All individuals wishing information concerning claims for industrial unemployment compensation benefits, Service-men's Readjustment Allowances and employment opportunities, are requested to contact the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission at the time and place indicated above.

Rita Goes Into Seclusion To Await Birth Of Child

Lausanne, Switzerland, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rita Hayworth, the movie star who became a princess by marrying Aly Khan, has come to Lausanne for the birth of her baby expected in the next few weeks.

Rita and Aly arrived from Paris Sunday and went into seclusion in a hotel suite. The hotel management referred all queries to a Lausanne information service which announced the couple would stay in the city until the birth of their child.

Neither could be approached directly for information but Prince Aly confirmed last August that the onetime Hollywood queen was an expectant mother. Rita and Aly were married May 27 on the French Riviera after a courtship that made headlines around the world.

Miss Hayworth has visited Lausanne several times in recent months to consult physicians at the Mont Choisi clinic.

The information service said the couple would stay in Lausanne until the birth of the baby and then go to Gstaad, a fashionable Swiss resort. The family is expected to move about Dec. 15 to a Gstaad chalet rented by Aly.

Jacques Fath, the Paris designer who made Rita's wedding gown, has prepared the actress' maternity wardrobe.

Aly has said the child would be reared as a Moslem. He has two sons by a previous marriage. Miss Hayworth has a daughter from her former marriage to Orson Welles, the screen and radio actor and producer.

HE DIVES FOR SUNKEN 'TREASURE' — At left, diver Bob Forrest is lowered by his helpers into the Crown Zellerbach log pond at Port Angeles, Wash. He's going down to search for "treasure" in the form of sunken logs. "Treasure?" you say. Darn tootin'. Loggers up in the woods float great "booms" of logs down the river to the sawmills. A boom consists of thousands of logs, chained into a gigantic raft. About 5 per cent of the logs become water-logged and sink. And at present lumber prices, that ain't hay. Hence the salvage operation. Picture at right shows Forrest supervising recovery of one of the logs he located below the surface and hooked on to the salvage hoist.

Ida Chapter OES
Observes Sixty
Years Of Service

Old time songs, quaint costumes that were in vogue three score years ago and tributes to old friends—most of whom are no longer among the living—made impressive and memorable observances at the Masonic hall Saturday evening marking the sixtieth anniversary of the institution of Ida Chapter No. 54, Order of Eastern Star.

The "birthday party," as it was termed by its sponsors, was in the nature of a program conducted at the close of the regular session of the chapter. A prologue, written by Mrs. Helen Hall and read by Mrs. Ruby Nicholson, recalled certain historical highlights that led to the organization of the chapter and incidents which transpired in the intervening years; and as these events were alluded to, costumed characters appeared on the scene to bring those old days back to life.

First appearing on the scene were Carl Olson and Paul Sobel, dressed in costumes and affecting hirsute adornments much in favor during the time of Benjamin Harrison's inauguration. They played violin selections of popular music of that period, among them, "After the Ball," "In the Gloaming" and "Sweet Genevieve."

Particularly interesting among the data revealed in the prologue concerning this period was the information that Ida Chapter was so named because there were three women among the charter members who had that Christian name. Mrs. Ida MacLauren, of Manistique, was one of these, and the chapter had hoped to honor her at this time, but she could not be present because of illness.

The second chapter of the prologue was devoted to Mrs. Grace LeRoy, who served as worthy matron several terms in that ten year period following the turn of the century. Appearing on the scene in costume in vogue during the early 1900s, she was given a place of honor while a quartette, composed of Carl Olson, Paul Sobel, Marvin Fredrickson and Herbert Peterson, serenaded her with popular songs of that day.

Next appeared Mrs. Nellie Rardon, worthy matron shortly after the termination of World War I, who was honored with songs of the period sung by Mrs. Myrna Izentraut and Herbert Peterson. Later a group of women, dressed in styles antedating bobbed hair, sang songs to the accompaniment of ukuleles. Mrs. Leona Wilde typified another period with the playing of ragtime music on the piano.

Bringing the scene up to the present was Mrs. Hildred Taylor, past worthy matron and president of the Cloverland Association, an organization with which chapters of the Upper Peninsula are affiliated spoke briefly in tribute to founders of Ida chapter, those who served through the intervening years and made possible the progress and growth that the chapter has attained. Mrs. Lydia Bouschor serenaded the present period with selections on the accordion.

The program was followed by a smorgasbord luncheon in the dining room. The "smorgas" table was beautifully decked out in approved Swedish-Norwegian style with all manner of cold meats, herring, salads, breads and appetizers on the menu. A cake, iced in white, and in the form of an open book on whose pages were the legend "Ida Chapter, OES, 1889-1949," served as the centerpiece. In the center of the room was a huge birthday cake holding sixty lighted candles. Also placed on the table for inspection was a scrapbook containing pictures and news reports of important events in the history of the chapter.

On the serving committee were Grace MacDonald, Margaret Olson, Emma Larson, Alice Lowell, Margaret Larson, Margaret Stevenson, and Bertha Robertson.

The chapter meeting Saturday evening was the first one of the fiscal year. Mrs. Vesta Fyvie, presided as worthy matron.

Mrs. and Mrs. Verl B. Doro are the parents of a son, Verl Andrew, born October 30 at the Shaw hospital. The baby, the second child and first son, weighed eight pounds and one ounce. Mrs. Doro is the former Corrine Demers.

RECENT BRIDE—In a ceremony performed Saturday, October 29, Miss Peggy Rydquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rydquist, became the bride of Ben Hellsten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hellsten. The vows were exchanged before the Rev. G. A. Herbert in Zion Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Hellsten will make their home in Newberry. (Bradley Photo)

Big Ten Football Scrambled, May Go Right To Wire

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—The winner of the topsy-turvy Big Ten football season may not be decided until the final skirmishes Nov. 19.

A number of giants in the league have been cut down to size in upsets as the schedule folded and some have bounced back to regain their stature. Minnesota, for instance, after misadventures with Michigan and Purdue, recoiled to smother Iowa Saturday, 55 to 7, to all but dispel any hopes the Hawkeyes might have of a 1949 title.

The title picture might be cleared up a bit this weekend when Illinois goes to Columbus to play Ohio State. The Buckeyes are tied with Michigan for the conference leadership, each with three wins and one loss. The Illini are runnersup also with three triumphs and a defeat, but their record is blemished by a tie game with Wisconsin.

So, while Ohio State and Illinois may sharpen the title picture Saturday, it is also likely the Buckeye-Michigan game may really decide the championship the following Saturday.

Badgers in Running

In other league games Saturday Michigan lurks in Ann Arbor for Indiana, and Wisconsin will be host to Iowa. The Badgers still are in the running mathematically with two triumphs, one loss and one tie.

In non-conference competition, Minnesota will go to Pittsburgh, which succumbed 14 to 10 to an Ohio State rally Saturday. Purdue will play host to Marquette; Colgate pays a visit to Northwestern, and Michigan State following its brilliant fight in losing to Notre Dame 34 to 21, starts a two week road trip to play Oregon State in Portland and Arizona in Tucson. Undefeated Notre Dame returns to New York City after a three-year absence to meet twice-defeated North Carolina.

Marquette dropped a 6 to 3 decision to Santa Clara.

Illini at OSU

Illinois goes to Ohio State with its sparkling sophomore backs after setting a conference record of 552 yards in ground gaining in shellacking Indiana, 33 to 14. Halfback Johnny Karras, who got 155 yards in 12 tries, jumped into second place in the Big Ten (all-league) scoring race with Jack Jack Dittmer (36 points). Karras scored for a touchdown. Karras needs only 45 more yards in his next two Big Ten games to tie the 1944 record of 669 set by Les Horvath of Ohio State. Bill Reichardt of Iowa tops the conference scoring with 43 points.

Michigan had second-half trouble with Purdue Saturday, but tipped the Boilermakers 20 to 12. It was Purdue's fourth league loss in five starts.

Wings Tip Rangers, Leafs, Move Into 1st In NHL Chase

By the Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings, seeking their second straight National Hockey league pennant, today were gliding smoothly along atop the heap.

Coach Tommy Ivan's terrors took the lead over the weekend with triumphs over the Stanley Cup Champion Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers. The Wings polished off the Leafs, 4-3, Saturday night to snap their first place tie with Toronto and followed up with a crushing 7-0 triumph over the Rangers last night.

Toronto rebounded from its loss to Detroit with a 4-2 victory over the Blackhawks in Chicago Sunday night. The victory snapped a three game Chicago winning streak.

The Leafs snapped a 2-2 tie in the second period on a goal by Howie Meeker and clinched the game in the final heat on a marker by Joe Klukav.

The Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens, idle yesterday, played to a 3-3 tie Saturday night in Montreal.

TONIGHT'S SCHEDULE

STROH'S IN FINALS

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 7 (AP)—The Detroit Stroh's bowling team last night won the right to meet the Detroit E & B squad for the state match game championship. The Strohs fired an 8,473 total for nine games to best the 31 other teams participating in the eliminations.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Escanaba girls' basketball play will be held at the junior high school gym tonight, with Doris Costley's group and the Delta Hardware's occupying the court from 7 to 8 and the Danforth 4-11 group and Married Women taking over from 8 to 9. There will be scrimmage and other practice.

Spartans Toughest Team Irish Have Faced, Says Leahy After 34-21 Win

East Lansing, Nov. 7 (AP)—Michigan State was counting on the consolation prizes today after its 34-21 defeat by Notre Dame Saturday.

One consolation was that the Spartans ran up the largest number of points against Notre Dame since the Irish got past Purdue 28-27 in their 1948 season opener. Another was that they gave the nation's top team the stiffest battle and managed the closest score so far this season.

Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy called Michigan State "the toughest team we have played so far this season." And he noted that it was the first time this year that he had to keep his first string in most of the second half.

If any satisfaction can be found in defeat, the Spartans probably obtained it in the knowledge that they were beaten by a truly great football team. "They've got everything," MSC Coach Biggie Munn admitted.

The Monday morning quarterbacks were speculating that things might have gone differently if Michigan State had scored in the first half. The Spartans punched down to the Irish one yard line before a fumble killed their touchdown chance. And they kept the mighty men of Notre Dame from scoring in that first period.

But then the Irish started to March as they bruised their way for two touchdowns in the second quarter while Michigan State was managing one, set up by a fumble in front of the Irish goal line.

The Notre Dame power showed as its most impressive best in the second half.

Quarterback Bob Williams streaked 40 yards for a touchdown in the third period to cap a 79-yard drive. Williams, the first string quarterback, played 60 minutes in the game and completed 13 of 16 passes for 177 yards, two of them for touchdowns.

A 59-yard strike and a 63-yard march supplied the last two touchdowns.

Michigan State supporters got their big thrill in the final period when Lynn Chandonis took a pass from Gene Glick for 83-yards. Glick made the run pay off with a touchdown pass to Bob Carey for the score and connected with another to Dorne Dibble in the end zone for the final MSC marker.

Luckless Lions Lose To Cards

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—The hapless Detroit Lions were sole occupants of the National Football League cellar today after blowing a 42-19 decision to the Chicago Cardinals.

The statistics show the Lions had an edge in first downs, rushing and passing. But they also led the Cardinals in fumbles, and that made the difference. Chicago recovered five of six Detroit bobbles.

It was a disappointing performance for Bo McMillin's men who have won only one of their seven games. The one win came over the Cardinals by a 24-7 margin.

The Cardinals scored touchdowns in almost every possible way before the 22,479 spectators. This is how it went:

1—A 45-yard march with Pat Harder going over from the five.
2—A 44-yard touchdown pass from Jim Hardy to Charlie Trippi.
3—A 50-yard sweep with Trippi banging over from the four for his second touchdown of the day.
4—A 38-yard T. D. run by Jerry Davis after picking up a fumble by Detroit's Johnny Panelli.
5—A 50-yard runback of a punt by John Cochrane.
6—A 44-yard touchdown pass from Hardy to Harder.

Browns Once More Rule All-America Pro Loop; Eagles Cuff Rams, 38-14

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, usually resting up for the playoffs at this time of the year, once again are undisputed leaders of the All-America football conference today but the shooting isn't over.

Cleveland, champion every year since the league was organized in 1946, broke its stalemate with the New York Yankees for the top rung yesterday by trouncing the Chicago Hornets, 35-2, while the Yanks were upset, 17-14, by the Buffalo Bills.

Both contenders have three games remaining, including a date in the Yankee stadium two weeks hence that probably will settle the issue.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams staged an expected "preview" of the National league championship in the Quaker city.

The Eagles, eastern division pace-setters, cuffed the Rams, western division leaders, 38-14. Each sports an identical 6-1 rec-

Packers Bow To Bears, 24-3

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Chicago Bears' hopes for a share of a National Football League title were still alive today, thanks to a 24-3 defeat they handed the Green Bay Packers Sunday.

The victory was the fourth in seven starts for the Bears, and was achieved principally by the passing of Quarterback Johnny Lujack.

It also was their fifth straight win over the Packers, their traditional rivals. A total of 37,218 fans witnessed the contest, the 64th of the series.

The Packers' only score was a 22-yard field goal by Joe Ettridge in the opener. They penetrated to the Bear two, nine and five, but to no avail.

The Bears scored first in the opening period on George Blanda's 28-yard field goal. Late in the same quarter, they recovered a Packer fumble on their own 38, to set up touchdown.

It came in the early part of the second, on a 68-yard march, featuring a 19-yard pass, Lujack to George McAfee and a 28-yard aerial, Lujack to John Hoffman. Julie Rykovich finally bulled over from the one and Lujack kicked the first of his three extra points.

Late in the third, Lujack passed 21-yards to Jim Keane and then 29 more to McAfee. That placed the Bears on the 20 when the period ended. On the first play of the final, Lujack failed to find a receiver, so he ran the ball across personally.

The other Bear touchdown came on an 80-yard march, Lujack hitting Keane for 10 yards and then for 39. Rykovich blasted his way to pay dirt from the 15.

A blocked Packer punt gave the Bears the ball on the Green Bay eight, but a fumble on the one-half yard line cost them another touchdown.

All told, Lujack completed six aerials out of 16 for 146 yards. Gig Girard hit on four of 14 for 81, but Packer tosser Stan Heath connected on only one of five for four yards.

Sportswriters Pick

Stambaugh The No. 1 Eleven In Peninsula

Iron Mountain, Mich., Nov. 7 (AP)—Stambaugh is the No. 1 scholastic football team in the Upper Peninsula, according to the area's sportswriters.

They voted for the undefeated and untied eleven yesterday at a meeting of their association. Newberry, with five wins and a tie, was runnerup.

The $300 Floyd Barber trophy, donated by the 1913 Sault Ste. Marie high school team, but now in circulation for the first time, goes to the Stambaugh squad.

Buck Erickson, of the Iron Mountain News, was elected president of the association. Bob Brumm, of the Marquette Mining Journal, was picked as secretary-treasurer.

The association members also picked an all U. P. team. But it will not be announced until Nov. 17, Erickson said.

Oklahoma, California, Rice Only Redhot Bowl Candidates In The Land

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—With just two big weeks to go in this wild "wham-the-favorite" football season, Oklahoma, California and Rice today stacked up as the only redhot bowl candidates in the land.

It's a good bet that the unbeaten Sooners and Golden Bears will do repeat performances — third ranked Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl and fourth-rated California in the Rose Bowl.

Rice's Owls, No. 8 nationally, have emerged as the outstanding team of the southwest and should wind up as host in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Where sponsors will proceed from there in filling the four major post-season bills and the dozen other minor attractions is an engaging mystery.

They probably will have to do business with teams that have been kicked around a bit maybe lost two or three games.

Of last week's top ten teams in the Associated Press poll, five — Notre Dame (1), Army (2), Michigan (5), Cornell (7) and Michigan State (10)—are either disinterested or are bound by conference edict from participating in the Jan. 1 extravaganzas.

The other two—sixth-ranking Baylor and ninth-ranked Southern Methodist—are beginning to lose some of their bowl glimmer.

The Western Conference will send one of its representatives to Pasadena, but it can't be Northwestern, which went last year, or Michigan, which went the year before. Michigan State, the Big Ten's newest member, is not a title eligible.

This prize probably will be decided Saturday at Columbus, Ohio, where Ohio State clashes with Illinois. Ohio's Buckeyes are tied with Michigan for the top spot with three victories and one defeat. Illinois has won three, lost one and tied one.

Notre Dame and Army shun the post-season games while Cornell, as a member of the Ivy league, can't even flirt with the idea.

Bowl sponsors may have to dip down into the growing list of "dark horses" for candidates. Virginia, Wyoming, Boston University and College of the Pacific, all unbeaten and untied, head this group.

Virginia's Cavaliers, with a celebrated back in Johnny Papit, jarred Pennsylvania, 26-14, Saturday in a major upset that established them a team of big league class.

Escanaba Basketball Meeting Tomorrow

All managers or their representatives are asked to attend a meeting of the Escanaba Basketball association in the city council chambers at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

The practice schedule for this week was announced as follows: Tomorrow, 7 p. m.—Bisbee Drugs vs. People's Bar, 8 p. m.—VFW vs. Shamrocks, 9 p. m.—Cloverland vs. Gladstone Lions, Thursday, 7 p. m.—Bark River vs. Wait Window, 8 p. m.—Clairmont's vs.

6-Team NWM Cage League Organized

Dropping Escanaba VFW, Norw. Menhingi, Norway, who served as secretary-treasurer, also has resigned. His successor will be announced late this week.

Iron River, Quinnesec, Hermansville and Ishpeming are the other four teams in the league. Speaking for Norway, Arne B. Johnson said they could not match the competition. Roy Johnson, of VFW, said his team was not yet organized for NWM competition and Crystal Falls and Iron Mountain were not represented.

Ishpeming VFW, last year's champion, balked at first, it was reported, but when Peshigo and Republic were admitted, it came in to make it a six-team circuit.

Fourth Season

This will be the league's fourth consecutive season. Frank Rodman, Hermansville, was elected president to succeed Tom Roos.

Gladstone Dominates All-Great Lakes Grid League Selections

Placing three men on the first team and three on the second team, the Gladstone Braves, who lost only to Newberry this season, dominated selections for the Marquette Mining Journal's all-Great Lakes conference squad.

Jim Schram, Bill Beveridge and Marvin Jandro were named to end, tackle and guard posts, respectively, on the first team, and Phil Cogen, Stanley Jugo and Dick Stude were named to end, center and quarterback positions, respectively, on the second team.

Only unanimous choice was Newberry's hard running back, Roy Gustafson, a candidate for all-state honors. Schram received the second greatest number of votes, and Beveridge the third highest total.

The first-team selection follows: Schram, Gladstone, left end; Beveridge, Gladstone, left tackle; Tom Peters, Marquette, left guard; Tom Taylor, Newberry, center; Marvin Jandro, Gladstone, right guard; Fred Woods, Newberry, right tackle; Jack Armstrong, Soo, right end; Carl Nystrom, Marquette, quarterback; Clarence Rivers, Negaunee, left half; Howard Hartman, Manistique, right half, and Gustafson, Newberry, fullback.

Gladstone Braves winning honorable mention were Bob Cole, tackle; Buddy Clark and Larry LaPlant, backs.

Tommy's Lunch, 9 p. m.—Harnischfeger vs. Independents.

SHAMROCKS LOSE

Ishpeming, Nov. 7 (Special)—In a rough, tight game, Ishpeming VFW, 1948-49 NWM league champion, defeated the Escanaba Shamrocks, 61-53, here Saturday night. The rivals were deadlocked, 22-22, at halftime. It was even until late in the fourth quarter when three Escanabans went out on personal fouls.

"We regret very much that Escanaba is not represented," Rodman said after the meeting. "That Escanaba - Hermansville rivalry was a natural. We understand that the VFW and/or the Shamrocks are not in because of travel complications."

Peshigo and Republic are both considered fast entries. Peshigo has such stars as Schacht, Surk, Johnson and Bromberg, and Stan Sosnoski and Mink St. Germain will pace the Republic entry. Jug Girard, currently of the Green Bay Packers, may also play with Peshigo at the end of the professional football season.

Rodman reports that the league will play a 10-game schedule, five home and five away, with competition starting, the week of November 13, first half play ending December 17 and second half play ending February 26.

Here Is Schedule

In addition, an all-star game between the first half champion and a league all-star group will be played in Hermansville between Christmas and New Year's.

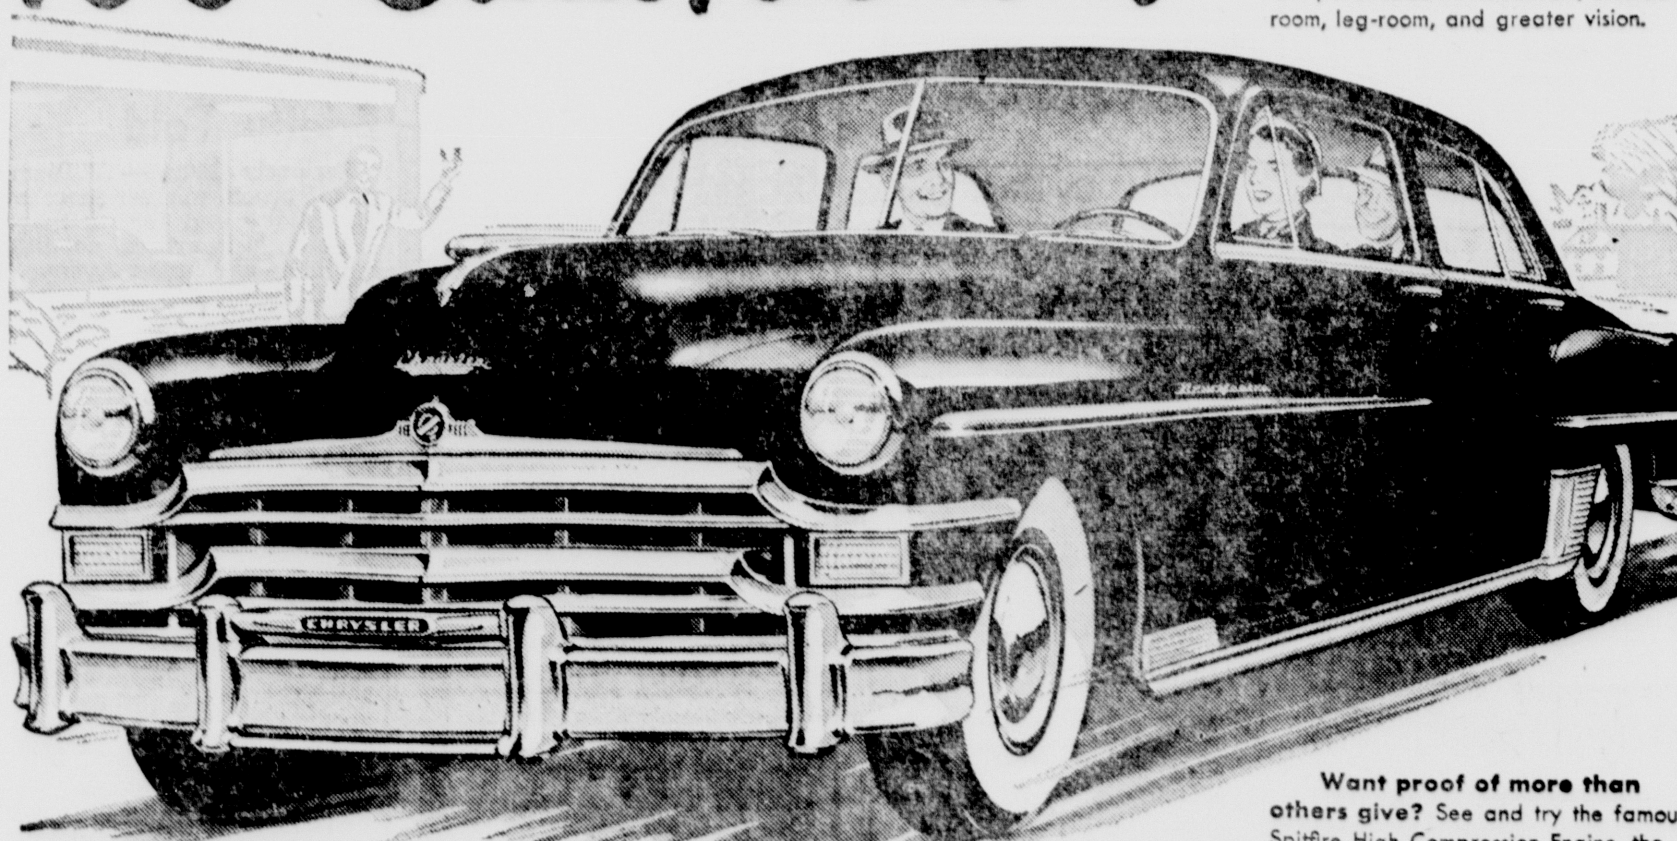

The schedule for the first two rounds follows:

Week of November 13—Peshigo at Hermansville, Republic at Quinnesec, Iron River at Ishpeming, week of November 20—Peshigo at Iron River, Quinnesec at Hermansville, Ishpeming at Republic.

Representatives at the meeting were Roy Johnson, Escanaba VFW; Ernie Soderberg and E. LaChapelle, Iron River; John Havela, Gig Gagliardi, Paul Nechak, Ishpeming; Glenn Fleetwood, Frank Rodman, Hermansville; Arne B. Johnson, August Menhingi, Norway; Thomas C. Roos, Negaunee; Francis Burns and Pat Piskowski, Peshigo; and Willard Baker and A. Webber, of Quinnesec.

Although two less teams are competing this year, it is the consensus that the addition of Peshigo and Republic with the retention of such potent teams as the Ishpeming VFW, Hermansville Silver Foxes, Quinnesec (finalists last year) and Iron River, the league is actually stronger than ever before.

SUCCESSFUL IN TESTS — A new type gravel hauler, the first of several to be constructed in the Delta county road commission shops, is pictured above in a test haul in the city of Escanaba. It hauls more than three times the amount of gravel carried by the conventional truck and thereby reduces costs, an important factor on long hauls. Haulers of similar type are being used in Marquette, Houghton and Gogebic counties.

New Gravel Hauler Cuts Costs And Triples Load

Now in use by the Delta county road commission is a machine that can haul three times as much gravel as the conventional truck — and do it at less cost.

William J. Karas, superintendent-engineer of the road commission, describes it as a semi-trailer mounted on a two-ton truck. The truck normally hauls three yards of gravel. The new gravel hauler, constructed in the road commission shop at Wells, will haul 10 yards.

The cost of the gravel hauler is $1,500 but it, and others like it, will be long on savings in the future, Karas is convinced from recent tests of the new piece of equipment.

Four other such units are hoped to be added to road commission equipment in the future. They will be constructed as was the first one, by Edwin Johnson, welder and blacksmith at the road commission shop, and his apprentice, Vernon Peterson.

The gravel hauler will prove out most economically on a long haul, and there are many such hauls from gravel pits to roads in Delta county, Karas said. The hauler is now being used to transport badly needed gravel to the Isabella location from the pit at Valentine Creek, an 11-mile haul.

There are similar conditions in other sections of the county, where a long haul is necessary to get the gravel from the crusher to the roads where the gravel is needed. For example, the county is now hauling some gravel into Delta county from pits across the line in Marquette county.

"The larger capacity equipment reduces the hauling cost," Karas said. "The tests we have made of the new hauler are entirely satisfactory."

Besides reducing the hauling cost per yard, the new machine ends the necessity of having a standby gravel spreader where the gravel is being dumped. For the new hauler, unlike a standard dump truck, makes a good even spread of gravel as the load is emptied.

Houghton county has nine of the new type gravel haulers, Marquette already has two and will

Abilene Runner Is Top Scorer In U. S.

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Little McMurry college of Abilene, Tex., today still pointed to Halfback Brad Rowland as the top individual scorer of college football.

Instead of weakening in the stretch as the season nears its end, the consistent Rowland continues to widen the gap over his closest pursuer, Bill Young of unbeaten Hillsdale, Mich. Brad last week increased his margin over Young from 16 to 20 points.

In eight games, Rowland has clicked for 18 touchdowns and 108 points. Young's record for seven games shows 12 touchdowns and 16 conversions for 88 points.

Neale Finally Admits His Eagles Are Great

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—Coach Earle (Greasy) Neale finally admitted today what almost everybody has been saying for two years. His Philadelphia Eagles are one of the great professional football teams of all time.

Maybe it was his 58th birthday celebration; possibly it was his elation after a smashing victory over the previously unbeaten Los Angeles Rams; maybe he just felt good. Whatever it was, Greasy finally uttered the words he has been loathe to speak.
